CASE FILE: OPERATION IRONCLAD — The Impossible Structure

Classification: Restricted | Dataset: house_data1000.csv

THE INTELLIGENCE

Hidden among a thousand ordinary properties is one entry that should not exist. Its structural data is physically impossible — a residential listing that defies the laws of architecture and common sense.

The ghost asset doesn't hide behind fake names or false addresses. It hides behind an absurd number.

INTERCEPTED FIELD NOTES

» "Every house on the street has one, maybe two floors. This one is different."

» "When you see the number, you'll know. No residential property should have that many floors."

» "That impossible number — that's your code."

YOUR OBJECTIVE

Find the structural anomaly in the floors column.

The outlier value is your code.

Good luck, Detective.
